FIRST OUTLET

From a modest tea cart near Alappuzha lighthouse to a nationwide chain, THE CHAI WALAH's journey exemplifies the transformative power of innovation, entrepreneurship, and community development. Faisal Yousaf's emphasis on ethical principles stands as a beacon of inspiration in an industry often focused solely on profits.

Faisal stumbled upon on the idea while he was working and enjoying a cozy life in London. Then didn't think twice just started the business in India.

As THE CHAI WALAH expands its footprint, it continues to serve as a testament to how entrepreneurship can be a force for positive change. As we embark on future global expansions and ventures, Faisal's insights stand as a compass guiding THE CHAI WALAH toward success with a soul. Faisal's commitment to revolutionizing the street tea experience transcends borders, and as we set our sights on international markets, his emphasis on affordability, hygiene, and quality remains robust.

Faisal's dedication to fair trade and sustainability sets a gold standard. OUR PARTNERSHIP

OUR SPICES:

We've partnered with a founding member of the Fairtrade Alliance Kerala in India who strive to bridge the physical and emotional distance between the sensitive spice farmer and the conscious consumer.

THE ORIGINAL KADAK CHAI

Traditional recipe || Camellia sinensis var. assamica || CTC ||
Blended with Exotic Indian Spices

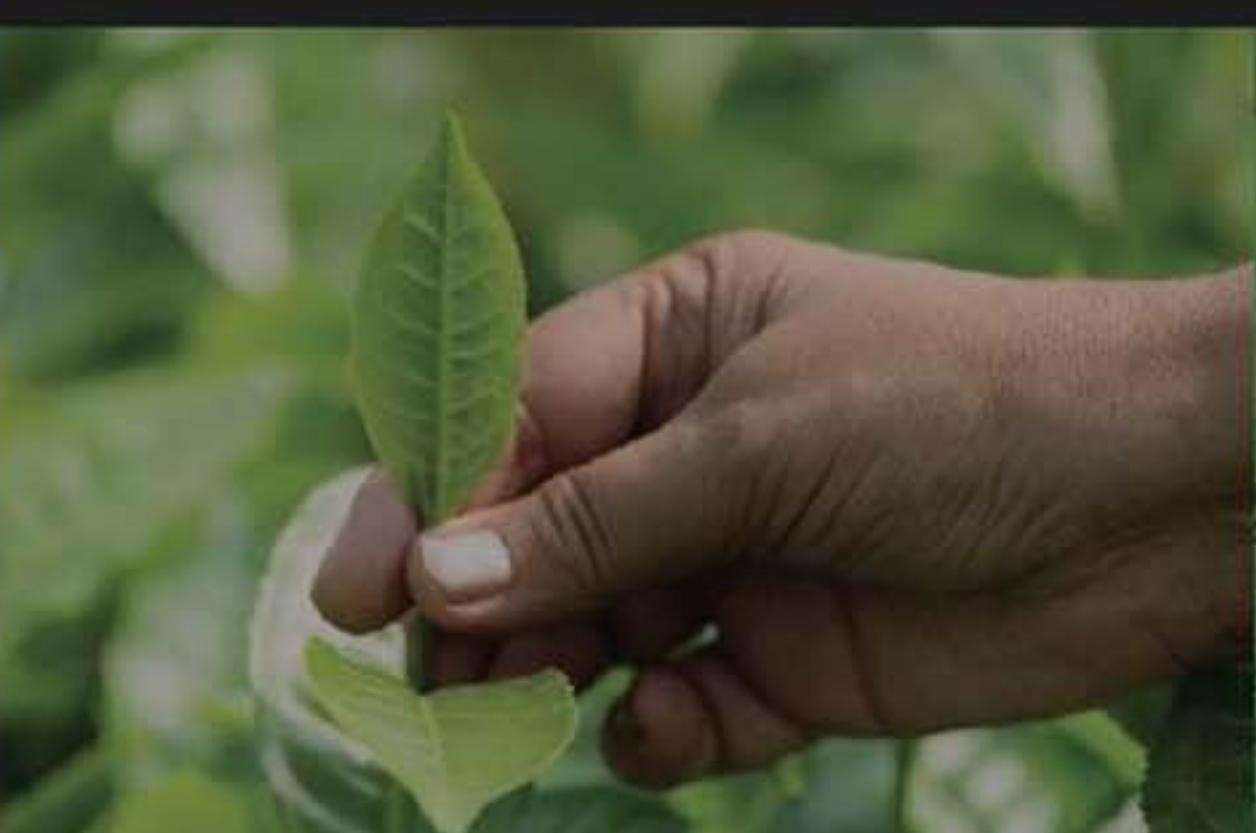

Wayanad, Kerala

Our spices grows within an organic farm that resembles nature in its rawest form - A tropical jungle. Thriving Ant hills, scattered spiders webs, marigolds together with birds, Leopards, Wild Elephants and even the odd family cow etc.

At the foot of the Himalayas, along the Brahmaputra River, Assam hosts the perfect conditions for tea cultivation. Nutrient-rich flood plains, lots of rain, and hot, humid rain conditions produces a strong full bodied and malty tea. The perfect pairing for our masala.

The tea in your cup is sourced directly from a single family run estate in Assam who prioritises quality over quantity and use age old organic practises.

OUR STORES

LOCATION....

When looking for a location, we suggest following specific criteria to ensure your store remains successful.

Location is single-handedly one of the most important variables that determine the success of any business and although our marketing is industry leading, foot traffic and street vantage-points help us make your store EVEN BETTER.

We don't need to be located in costly 'prime lot areas, but do thrive best off locations near main attractions, off popular streets or in areas that generate a particular local interest. When looking for your TW outlet location, think community, accessibility, and character - our branding tends to handle the rest as you can see from these interior design mockups.

STORE SIZE

This is very much dependent on location and availability, however, we require a minimum space of 50sqft to roughly anywhere between 800 to 1000sqft to create the most aesthetically pleasing store, as well as allow us to practise industry standard safety.
